ENITED Sport Event Solution[®]

Important sport event need endurance. And the right coach.

Have you ever added the element of sports in your marketing tool set and relationship management efforts, for your business events? Or are you at least considering it?

More and more international event organizers have started to realize the power and appeal of sport activities, for a great number of their congress or conference participants.

It is a unique & very personal way of engagement with your audience, in a rather unconventional form. It enhances the peer-to-peer and community experience and creates a sense of joint-effort and achievement.

Adding the CSR or charity commitment aspect as one common goal, all under the simple umbrella of a friendly sport contest, will definitely enhance the participant's experience, and contribute to the legacy of your event.

Excellent sport events make our hearts beat faster – at just the same rate as yours.

ENITED is a renowned and highly regarded stager for demanding and complex events. Based in Vienna, we have crafted brand messages, made a name for ourselves in destination management, and facilitated many successful business events – from two-person meetings to a high-end international conference and a global sports event.
